PENAL CODE SECTION 1269b – ADOPTION OF BAIL SCHEDULE

“(c) It is the duty of the superior court judges in each county to prepare, adopt, and annually revise a uniform countywide schedule of bail for all bailable felony offenses and for all misdemeanor and infraction offenses except Vehicle Code infractions. The penalty schedule for infraction violations of the Vehicle Code shall be established by the Judicial Council in accordance with Section 40310 of the Vehicle Code.

(e) In adopting a uniform countywide schedule of bail for all bailable felony offenses the judges shall consider the seriousness of the offense charged. In considering the seriousness of the offense charged the judges shall assign an additional amount of required bail for each aggravating or enhancing factor chargeable in the complaint, including, but not limited to, additional bail for charges alleging facts that would bring a person within any of the following sections: Section 667.5, 667.51, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 667.9, 667.10, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.53, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9 of this code, or Section 11356.5, 11370.2, or 11370.4 of the Health and Safety Code.

In considering offenses in which a violation of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 11350) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code is alleged, the judge shall assign an additional amount of required bail for offenses involving large quantities of controlled substances.”

BAIL MUST BE SET IN THE AMOUNT SPECIFIED IN THIS SCHEDULE AND CANNOT BE CHANGED; AND RELEASE ON OWN RECOGNIZANCE CANNOT BE GRANTED; FOR THE FOLLOWING OFFENSES PRIOR TO A HEARING IN OPEN COURT, PURSUANT TO PENAL CODE SECTION 1270.1:

- “(1) A serious felony, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7, or a violent felony, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, but not including a violation of subdivision (a) of Section 460 (residential burglary).
- (2) A violation of Section 136.1 where punishment is imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 136.1, 262, 273.5, 422 where the offense is punished as a felony, or 646.9.
- (3) A violation of paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 243.”
- (4) A violation of Section 273.6 if the detained person made threats to kill or harm, has engaged in violence against, or has gone to the residence or workplace of, the protected party.

TWO DAY WRITTEN NOTICE BEFORE HOLDING 1270.1 HEARING

b) The prosecuting attorney and defense attorney shall be given a two court-day written notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter. If the detained person does not have counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for purposes of this section only. The hearing required by this section shall be held within the time period prescribed in Section 825.

JUDGE MUST CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING MATTERS AT 1270.1 BAIL HEARING

(c) At the hearing, the court shall consider evidence of past court appearances of the detained person, the maximum potential sentence that could be imposed, and the danger that may be posed to other persons if the detained person is released. In making the determination whether to release the detained person on his or her own recognizance, the court shall consider the potential danger to other persons, including threats that have been made by the detained person and any past acts of violence. The court shall also consider any evidence offered by the detained person regarding his or her ties to the community and his or her ability to post bond.

JUDGE MUST STATE REASONS FOR DECISION TO SET BAIL IN AMOUNT MORE OR LESS THAN THE AMOUNT IN THE BAIL SCHEDULE

(d) If the judge or magistrate sets the bail in an amount that is either more or less than the amount contained in the schedule of bail for the offense, the judge or magistrate shall state the reasons for that decision and shall address the issue of threats made against the victim or witness, if they were made, in the record. This statement shall be included in the record."

SETTING BAIL, BAIL HEARINGS, INCREASING OR REDUCING BAIL ISSUES, OWN RECOGNIZANCE RELEASE

AUTOMATIC REVIEW OF FIXING OF BAIL

(PENAL CODE SECTION 1270.2)

"When a person is detained in custody on a criminal charge prior to conviction for want of bail, that person is entitled to an automatic review of the order fixing the amount of the bail by the judge or magistrate having jurisdiction of the offense. That review shall be held not later than five days from the time of the original order fixing the amount of bail on the original accusatory pleading. The defendant may waive this review."

BAIL INCREASE REQUESTED BY PEACE OFFICER

(PENAL CODE SECTION 1269)

In the event that law enforcement has reasonable cause to believe the amount of bail set forth in the Bail Schedule is insufficient, the arresting officer shall provide the booking officer at the custodial jail a copy of a 1269 Pen. Code declaration requesting an order setting a higher bail. Once a copy of the 1269 declaration has been given to the booking officer, no one shall release the defendant except at the requested bail. The arresting officer has eight (8) hours to obtain approval of the on-call judge. If no magistrate approved 1269 declaration is provided to the booking officer within eight (8) hours of the initial booking, then the defendant may be released at the amount of bail as indicated by the Bail Schedule. Any magistrate approved 1269 declaration must be filed with the Complaint.

SOURCE OF BAIL FUNDS CHALLENGED

(PENAL CODE SECTION 1275.1)

In the event law enforcement has reasonable cause to believe that bail has been or may be obtained by felonious means, the arresting officer shall provide the booking officer at the custodial jail a copy of a copy of a declaration requesting an order pursuant to Penal Code section 1275.1. Once a copy of a 1275.1 form has been given to the booking officer, no one may release the defendant. The arresting officer has eight (8) hours to obtain approval of the on-call judge. If the on call judge approves the 1275.1 application the defendant may not be released except upon the order of a Judge after a noticed hearing in Court. If no magistrate approved 1275.1 application is provided to the booking officer, then the defendant may be released at the amount of bail as indicated by the Bail Schedule. Any magistrate approved 1275.1 application must be filed with the Complaint.

STALKING – PRIOR TO BAIL HEARING PROSECUTOR MUST MAKE REASONABLE EFFORTS TO NOTIFY VICTIM OF THE RIGHT TO APPEAR AND ADDRESS THE COURT AT HEARING
See Pen. Code 646.93(b); Pen. Code 1270.1.

FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED IN SETTING BAIL / BAIL SET BY JUDGE MUST BE REASONABLE - PENAL CODE SECTION 1275:

“(a) In setting, reducing, or denying bail, the judge or magistrate shall take into consideration the protection of the public, the seriousness of the offense charged, the previous criminal record of the defendant, and the probability of his or her appearing at trial or hearing of the case. The public safety shall be the primary consideration.

In considering the seriousness of the offense charged, the judge or magistrate shall include consideration of the alleged injury to the victim, and alleged threats to the victim or a witness to the crime charged, the alleged use of a firearm or other deadly weapon in the commission of the crime charged, and the alleged use or possession of controlled substances by the defendant.

(b) In considering offenses wherein a violation of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 11350) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code is alleged, the judge or magistrate shall consider the following: (1) the alleged amounts of controlled substances involved in the commission of the offense, and (2) whether the defendant is currently released on bail for an alleged violation of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 11350) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) Before a court reduces bail below the amount established by the bail schedule approved for the county, in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 1269b, for a person charged with a serious felony, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7, or a violent felony, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, the court shall make a finding of unusual circumstances and shall set forth those facts on the record. For purposes of this subdivision, “unusual circumstances” does not include the fact that the defendant has made all prior court appearances or has not committed any new offenses.”

Also, see Art. I, section 12, of the California Constitution. In People v. Accredited Surety & Casualty Co., Inc. (2004) 125 C.A.4th 1, 4, the appellate court noted:

“[1] The amount of bail is primarily within the discretion of the magistrate or judge, limited only by the general rules that bail should be fixed to secure the appearance of the defendant and not to punish, and it should not be excessive. (See 4 Witkin & Epstein, Cal. Criminal Law (3d ed. 2000) Pretrial Proceedings, §87, p. 286.) The judicial officer has discretion to reduce bail below the minimum established by the bail schedule. In that case, the judge or magistrate must state the reasons on the record and, in some circumstances, make findings of fact on the record. (See, e.g., §§1270.1, subd. (d) & 1275, subd. (c).” Also, see In re Mehdizadeh (2003) 105 C.A.4th 995, 1006:

“Persons charged with probation violations are subject to the same bail statutes as persons charged with crimes. fn. 35 A person on probation for a misdemeanor conviction “shall be entitled to an own recognizance release unless [such release] will compromise public safety or will not reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required.” fn. 36 A person on probation for a felony nonviolent drug possession conviction also may be granted own recognizance release.’

“No authority requires a court upon request of a defendant to state its reasons for increasing or decreasing bail once bail has been set.” 31 Ops.Atty.Gen. 175 (1958).

SUBSEQUENT MOTIONS TO REDUCE BAIL BASED UPON SHOWING OF GOOD CAUSE ARE POSSIBLE

See Penal Code Section 1269; but also see People v. Barros (2012) 209 C.A.4th 1581, 1598; and In re Alberto (2002) 102 C.A.4th 421, 427:

“For one superior court judge, no matter how well intended, even if correct as a matter of law, to nullify a duly made, erroneous ruling of another superior court judge places the second judge in the role of a one-judge appellate court.

... the good cause must be founded on changed circumstances relating to the defendant or the proceedings, not on the conclusion that another judge in previously setting bail committed legal error.”

Library Reference – California Judges Benchguide 55 – Bail and Own-Recognizance Release, 4-Increasing or Decreasing Bail Amount, sections 55-16-155-18 (Revised 2013).

PENAL CODE SECTION 1275(c) - FINDINGS BY COURT WHEN REDUCING BAIL

Court must make a finding of unusual circumstances before reducing bail below the county approved bail schedule when the person is charged with a serious or violent felony. The court must set forth those facts on the record. For purposes of this subdivision, “unusual circumstances” does not include the fact that the defendant has made all prior court appearances or has not committed any new offenses.

OR RELEASE / FOR MISDEMEANORS AND FELONIES

PENAL CODE SECTION 1270 (circumstances for which defendant may be released on OR; and Penal Code section 1319 (authorizing OR hearing and terms of release).

Penal Code section 1319.5, forbids release of a person on own recognizance absence a hearing in open court for specified crimes and circumstances:

“(a) No person described in subdivision (b) who is arrested for a new offense may be released on his or her own recognizance until a hearing is held in open court before the magistrate or judge.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall apply to the following:

(1) Any person who is currently on felony probation or felony parole.

(2) Any person who has failed to appear in court as ordered, resulting in a warrant being issued, three or more times over the three years preceding the current arrest, except for infractions arising from violations of the Vehicle Code, and who is arrested for any of the following offenses:

(A) Any felony offense.

(B) Any violation of the California Street Terrorism Enforcement and Prevention Act (Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 186.20) of Title 7 of Part 1).

(C) Any violation of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 240) of Title 8 of Part 1 (assault and battery).

(D) A violation of Section 484 (theft).

In People v. Standish (2006) 38 Cal.4th 858, 871-872, the Cal. Supreme Court referred to some of the pertinent Statutes, when a judge is considering whether or not to release a defendant on his or her own recognizance:

“The magistrate’s discretion whether or not to grant OR release is governed by other provisions to which the Legislature could have referred in section 859b had it intended that OR release pursuant to section 859b be discretionary. (Compare §§1269c [governing applications for increase or decrease in bail and for OR release]; 1270 [setting out the general circumstances in which defendants may be granted OR release]; 1270.1 [requiring a hearing before scheduled bail may be increased or decreased or OR release granted to defendants charged with specific violent felonies, and specifying factors to be considered by the court]; see also §§273.75 and 273.84 [governing OR release in specified domestic violence and spousal abuse cases], 1319 [requiring a hearing prior to OR release in violent felony cases, prescribing circumstances to be considered by the court in such cases, and prohibiting OR release for any person charged with a violent felony who previously failed to appear], 1319.5 [requiring a hearing prior to OR release for parolees, probationers, and persons who previously failed to appear].)”

Also, see People v. Hernandez (2009) 177 C.A.4th 1182, 1190-1191:

“Appellant also contends that since he never signed a formal written release agreement pursuant to section 1318, the emergency pass was not an O.R. release or its functional equivalent. We conclude that appellant prevails on this issue because his release from custody failed to meet the statutory criteria set forth in section 1318 for an O.R. release.

[6] We are so persuaded based on Court of Appeal cases addressing the issue of whether section 1318 must be complied with in order to prosecute a defendant for the separate offense set forth in section 1320 of failure to appear in court after being released on his or her own recognizance. (See Mohammed, supra, 162 Cal.App.4th 920; Jenkins, supra, 146 Cal.App.3d 22.) Both of these cases held that if section 1318 is not complied with, there can be no prosecution of the defendant under section 1320 if he or she fails to appear as promised. An important rationale in both decisions was that compliance with section 1318 is an integral and necessary part of what defines an O.R. release.”

IN CUSTODY DEFENDANT ON MISDEMEANORS ENTITLED TO OR RELEASE, UNLESS JUDGE FINDS OR RELEASE WILL COMPROMISE PUBLIC SAFETY OR WILL NOT REASONABLY ASSURE APPEARANCE OF DEFENDANT

Dant v. Superior Court (People)* (1998) 61 C.A.4th 380, 385, fn. 7:

“A defendant who is in custody and is arraigned on a complaint alleging an offense which is a misdemeanor, and a defendant who appears before a court or magistrate upon an out-of-county warrant arising out of a case involving only misdemeanors, shall be entitled to an own recognizance release unless the court makes a finding on the record, in accordance with Section 1275, that an own recognizance release will compromise public safety or will not reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required. Public safety shall be the primary consideration. If the court makes one of those findings, the court shall then set bail and specify the conditions, if any, whereunder the defendant shall be released.”

DEFENDANT AS CONDITION OF OR RELEASE MUST SIGN A RELEASE AGREEMENT

In People v. Mohammed (2008) 162 C.A.4th 920,928-929, the appellate court noted:

“[2] Turning to the language of section 1318, we find nothing ambiguous or unclear. Specifically, as noted, section 1318 states that a “defendant shall not be released from custody under an own recognizance until the defendant files with the clerk of the court or other person authorized to accept bail a signed release agreement which includes: [¶] (1) The defendant’s promise to appear at all times and places, as ordered by the court or magistrate and as ordered by any court in which, or any magistrate before whom the charge is subsequently pending. [¶] (2) The defendant’s promise to obey all reasonable conditions imposed by the court or magistrate.

[¶] (3) The defendant's promise not to depart this state without leave of the court. [¶] (4) Agreement by the defendant to waive extradition if the defendant fails to appear as required and is apprehended outside of the State of California. [¶] (5) The acknowledgment of the defendant that he or she has been informed of the consequences and penalties applicable to violation of the conditions of release." (Italics added.) In other words, the court shall not release the defendant until the defendant signs the release agreement and files it with the clerk of the court or other person authorized to accept bail."

In some instances, failure to include all of the foregoing conditions can lead to "substantial compliance" and successful prosecution of a Penal Code 1320 violation. See People v. Carroll (2014) 222 C.A.4th 1406,

BAIL CONDITIONS – PUBLIC SAFETY / OWN RECOGNIZANCE RELEASE AGREEMENT CONDITIONS CAN BE IMPOSED

Gray v. Superior Court (Medical Bd. of Cal.) (2005) 125 C.A.4th 629, 642:

"... trial court possesses inherent authority to impose conditions associated with release on bail. (See generally In re McSherry (2003) 112 Cal.App.4th 856, 860-863 (McSherry); 1 Criminal Law Procedure and Practice (Cont.Ed.Bar 7th ed. 2004) §4.26, p. 76 ["Magistrates have the authority to set bail on conditions that they consider appropriate. [Citation.]"].) In McSherry, the court reasoned that if a trial court is statutorily authorized to impose bail conditions on a person charged with a misdemeanor (see Pen. Code, §1270, subd. (a)), then the Legislature surely intended similar conditions could be imposed when a defendant facing felony charges is released on bail. (McSherry, supra, 112 Cal.App.4th at p. 862.)

[14] Before legislative amendments to the Penal Code in 1987, the only permissible purpose of bail was to ensure the defendant's presence in court. (McSherry, supra, 112 Cal.App.4th at p. 860.) Now, "public safety ... is ... the primary factor for the court to consider in the setting of bail." (Id. at p. 861; see also Pen. Code, §1275, subd. (a).)"

Also, see Pen. Code section 1270. Also, see In re York (1995) 9 Cal.4th 1133, for setting conditions for Own Recognizance Release (OR); and Penal Code section 1318:

"(a) The defendant shall not be released from custody under an own recognizance until the defendant files with the clerk of the court or other person authorized to accept bail a signed release agreement which includes: (1) The defendant's promise to appear at all times and places, as ordered by the court or magistrate and as ordered by any court in which, or any magistrate before whom the charge is subsequently pending; (2) The defendant's promise to obey all reasonable conditions imposed by the court or magistrate; (3) The defendant's promise not to depart this state without leave of the court; (4) Agreement by the defendant to waive extradition if the defendant fails to appear as required and is apprehended outside of the State of California. (5) The acknowledgment of the defendant that he or she has been informed of the consequences and penalties applicable to violation of the conditions of release."

Also, see Penal Code section 1318, authorizing reasonable conditions in connection with an OR Release; People v. Standish (2006) 38 Cal.4th 858, 876; and People v. Ormiston (2003) 105 C.A.4th 676.

PENAL CODE SECTION 646.9 – STALKING / Penal Code 646.93(c), imposes conditions on bail for stalking offenses:

- The defendant shall not initiate contact in person, by telephone, or any other means with the alleged victims
- The defendant shall not knowingly go within 100 yards of the alleged victims, their residence, or place of employment
- The defendant shall not possess any firearms or other deadly or dangerous weapons
- The defendant shall obey all laws
- The defendant, upon request at the time of his or her appearance in court shall provide the court with an address where he or she is residing or will reside, a business address and telephone number if employed, and a residence number if the defendant's residence has a telephone

ISSUANCE OF PROTECTIVE ORDER – DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CASES

In domestic violence cases, see Chapter 3, Pretrial Release Considerations, California Judges Benchbook, Domestic Violence Cases in Criminal Court, Chapter 4, pp. 39-69, CEB, 2016.

Also, see Penal Code section 136.2, requiring a court to consider the issuing of a protective order on its own motion in domestic violence cases, or for good cause in other crimes (*during pendency of case). See Babalola v. Superior Court (2011) 192 C.A.4th 948, 963-964: "In sum, in domestic violence cases past harm, as evidenced by the underlying charges or other information concerning the defendant's criminal history, or threat of future harm [*33] to the victim may provide good cause for issuance of a criminal protective order. In all other cases, a criminal protective order must be based on a finding of good cause to believe an attempt to intimidate or dissuade a victim or witness has occurred or is reasonably likely to occur. That finding may be based on the underlying charges and the circumstances surrounding the commission of the charged offenses, but a mere finding of past harm to the victim or a witness is not sufficient."

Upon conviction, if probation is granted a new protective order is necessary either under Penal Code 136.2(i) (1), or Penal Code 1203.097, and any previous order issued during pendency of the case should be terminated. See Judicial Council Form CR-160 – Domestic Violence Cases (Rev. July 2016).

DENIAL OF BAIL / CAPITAL CRIMES / CERTAIN FELONY CRIMES INVOLVING ACTS OF VIOLENCE

See In re Nordin (1983) 143 C.A.3d 538; Art. I, section 12, of the Cal. Constitution:

"A person shall be released on bail by sufficient sureties, except for: [¶] (a) Capital crimes when the facts are evident or the presumption great; [¶] (b) Felony offenses involving acts of violence on another person when the facts are evident or the presumption great and the court finds based upon clear and convincing evidence that there is a substantial likelihood the person's release would result in great bodily harm to others; or [¶] (c) Felony offenses when the facts are evident or the presumption great and the court finds based on clear and convincing evidence that the person has threatened another with great bodily harm and that there is a substantial likelihood that the person would carry out the threat if released. [¶] Excessive bail may not be required. In fixing the amount of bail, the court shall take into consideration the seriousness of the offense charged, the previous criminal record of the defendant, and the probability of his or her appearing at the trial or hearing of the case. [¶] A person may be released on his or her own recognizance in the court's discretion."

FORFEITURE OF BAIL BOND WHEN DEFENDANT FAILS TO APPEAR WITHOUT SUFFICIENT EXCUSE

See Penal Code section 1305(a)(5); and People v. Ranger Ins. Co. (2006) (5th DCA) 143 C.A.4th 1304. Bail forfeiture cannot be effectuated, unless the trial court has strictly complied with statutory requirements. See People v. Western Ins. Co. (2013) 213 Cal.App.4th 316, - court permitting defendant to leave country without knowledge of surety increased risk of failure to appear and trial court should have vacated forfeiture and exonerated bond when defendant failed to appear; People v. $10,153.38 in United States Currency (2009) 179 Cal.App.4th 1520, 1528. Failure to declare a forfeiture when circumstances call for it divests the court of jurisdiction to do so at any later proceeding in the case. See People v. Indiana Lumbermens Mut. Ins. Co. (2011) 194 Cal.App.4th 45, 49.

There is no common law defense to a bail forfeiture that a surety's risk has been materially increased. See County of Los Angeles v. American Contractors Indemnity Co. (2011) 198 C.A.4th 175, 178-179.

A bondsman has the authority to surrender a subject who has posted a bond if the bondsman believes the bond was inadequate to cover a flight risk based on the charges. See Penal Code section 1300.

Notice to Surety of Forfeiture of Bail Bond / Notice to Professional Surety Need Not Contain Explicit Notification of Procedure to Obtain Relief

In County of Orange v. Lexington Nat. Ins. Corp. (2006) 140 C.A.4th 1488, the appellate court pointed out:

"Section 1305 states in relevant part: "If the amount of the bond . . . exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the clerk of the court shall, within 30 days of the forfeiture, mail notice of the forfeiture to the surety . . ." (Id., subd. (b), italics added.) Subdivision (b) further provides that "[t]he surety . . . shall be released of all obligations under the bond if any of the following conditions apply: [¶] (1) The clerk fails to mail the notice of forfeiture in accordance with this section within 30 days after the entry of the forfeiture. [¶] (2) The clerk fails to mail the notice of forfeiture to the surety at the address printed on the bond. [¶] (3) The clerk fails to mail a copy of the notice of forfeiture to the bail agent at the address shown on the bond." (Ibid., italics added.)

[1] The statute has two related objectives: to provide for a reasonably effective means of notice, and to create a reasonably reliable record of that notice."

Also, see People v. Accredited Surety & Casualty Co. (2013) 220 C.A.4th 1137, 1145:

"...the class of those for whom due process requires that notice of a bail forfeiture contain explicit notification of the procedure by which [13] to obtain relief from the forfeiture does not include professional sureties, such as the surety in the present case. Unlike the laypersons involved in Swink and Minor, Surety "routinely work[s] with the section [(1305)] and [is] presumably familiar with it." (Minor, supra, 219 Cal.App.3d at p. 1550.)"

Forfeiture of Bail Bond Upon Non-appearance of Defendant Must be Declared in Open Court

Failure to declare forfeiture of the bail bond upon nonappearance of the defendant in open court deprives the court of jurisdiction to later declare a forfeiture of the bail bond. See People v. Bankers Insurance Co. (2010) 182 C.A.4th 582, 586. The Cal. Supreme Court has elaborated on this subject in People v. Allegheny Casualty Co. (2007) 41 Cal.4th 704, 706-707:

"Penal Code section 1305, subdivision (a) (section 1305(a)), fn. 1 requires that a forfeiture of bail be declared "in open court." In this case, the trial judge ordered forfeiture, but the record does not affirmatively establish whether this declaration did, or did not, occur in open court. We granted review to address in this setting the propriety of a trial court's subsequent order denying the bail surety's motion to set aside the forfeiture and to exonerate the bond.

We conclude as follows: Although the circumstance that a trial court has declared a bail forfeiture is a matter that should be reflected in the court's minutes, and although it is better practice for the minutes further to reflect that such a declaration was made orally in open court, as required by section 1305(a), contrary to the conclusion reached by the Court of Appeal below the statute does not require that a reporter's transcript, or the minutes, reflect the circumstance that the declaration occurred in open court. Moreover, consistent with the well-established presumptions that "official duty has been regularly performed" and that a court (or judge) is "presumed to have acted in the lawful exercise of its jurisdiction" (Evidence Code, §§664 & 666), in the posture in which this case arises (but contrary to the determination of the appellate court below) a failure to declare forfeiture in open court will not be presumed on a silent record. Because in the present case the party seeking to set aside the forfeiture and exonerate the bond has not established that the trial court failed to declare the forfeiture in open court, we reverse the judgment rendered by the Court of Appeal."

Also, see County of Orange v. Lexington Nat. Ins. Corp. (2006) 140 C.A.4th 1488, 1492-1493. Failure to follow the provisions contained in the forfeiture statutes results in the surety being exonerated from his obligations. It is also noted herein that the surety and bail agent are entitled to separate notice every time a forfeiture is declared. Bail forfeiture declared in open court does not require that a court reporter be present. See People v. Allegheny Casualty Co. (2007) 41 Cal.4th 704; Penal Code 664 (official duty presumed to have been performed).

Remanding Defendant into Custody When Out on Bail and Bail is Increased Based on New Circumstance (e.g. additional charges, amended complaint or information)

Bond is exonerated when this takes place. See Penal Code section 1305 (c)(1); and People v. International Fidelity Ins. Co. (2012) 204 C.A.4th 588, 594; and People v. Lexington National Ins. Corp., 242 Cal. App. 4th 1098.

When a Charge or Charges are Added or there is a Consolidation of Related Charges Based on Same Acts in Original Complaint this does Not Result in Exoneration of the Bond

See People v. Indiana Lumbermens Mutual Ins. Co. (2012) 202 C.A.4th 1541, 1547-1549.

Good Cause for Not Forfeiting Bail Bond and for Continuing Case / Penal Code 1305.1

In People v. International Fidelity Ins. Co. (2007) 151 C.A.4th 1056, the appellate court pointed out the options the trial court has when a defendant fails to appear on a bail bond: "Section 1305, subdivision (a) provides that if a criminal defendant fails to appear, without sufficient excuse, for his arraignment, trial, judgment, or on any other occasion when his presence is lawfully required prior to the pronouncement of judgment, the trial court "shall in open court declare [the bail] forfeited." Subdivision (a) of section 1305 works in conjunction with section 1305.1, which provides that if the trial court has reason to believe that a sufficient reason may exist for the defendant's failure to appear, "the court may continue the case for a period it deems reasonable to enable the defendant to appear without ordering a forfeiture of bail." (Italics added.) If the defendant then fails to appear, without sufficient excuse, on or before the continued date, "the bail shall be forfeited." Thus, a trial court's options, when the defendant fails to appear on an occasion when his appearance is lawfully required, are governed by both section 1305, subdivision (a) and section 1305.1. The trial court is obligated to exercise its sound discretion in making a determination whether a defendant's failure to appear is without sufficient excuse. (County of Los Angeles v. Ranger Ins. Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 992, 996.)"

Estoppel for Continued Extensions Requested by Bonding Company

See People v. Bankers Insurance Co. (2010) 182 C.A.4th 1377, 1386. In this latter case, the appellate court concluded: "[4] In short, we see no reason not to apply the rule that a litigant who has stipulated or otherwise consented to a procedure in excess of jurisdiction may be estopped to question it. As National Automobile observed, the rule has been applied in circumstances "materially indistinguishable from those before us." (National Automobile, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at p. 126.) Here, Bankers expressly sought an extension of the appearance period -- whether we use the six months sought in its notice of motion or the 30 days sought in its affidavit and memorandum -- that resulted in an extension beyond the authority of the trial court to grant under sections 1305 and 1305.4. fn. 10 (See Taylor Billingslea, supra, {Page 182 Cal.App.4th 1386} 74 Cal.App.4th at p. 1199; Granite State, supra, 114 Cal.App.4th at p. 768.) As a consequence, summary judgment was entered, contrary to the statutory prescription, more than 90 days "after the date upon which it may first be entered ..." (§1306, subd. (c).) As in National Automobile, although the trial court "acted in excess of its jurisdiction when it extended the appearance period," the surety is estopped from challenging that order, and "[s]ince its challenge[] to the summary judgment[] [is] premised upon the alleged invalidity of [that] order[]," that challenge also fails. fn. 11 (Id. at p. 127.)

We do not intend by this opinion to create a broad estoppel rule applicable to any misstep made by the surety. We recognize that the statutory provisions are replete with technicalities, and the trial courts must be vigilant in following the statutory strictures. In the circumstances here, however, the surety's affirmative conduct makes it appropriate to estop it from challenging the trial court's erroneous extension of the appearance period. To rule otherwise on this record would create a wholly unacceptable precedent, encouraging sureties to request multiple extensions from busy judges and, when their requests are honored and they nevertheless cannot produce the defendant, claim that they were wrong to have asked for further time and the judge should not have listened to their entreaties. To permit the surety to have it both ways -- to obtain more time to avoid forfeiture of the bond, and then to have the bond exonerated because the judge gave them more time -- would be to allow an intolerable manipulation of the trial courts. This we cannot and will not condone."

Vacating Forfeiture – See County of Los Angeles v. Financial Casualty & Surety Inc. (2015) 236 C.A.4th 37, 44-45, - deportation constitutes possible ground for relief from forfeiture pursuant to Penal Code section 1305.
